

Room 13

Hi, I'm Britney.

I am going on a trip to Camp Murder with my mum. Mum says the name is just to spook people out. I'm not sure. I don't want to go. "No you have to go", says my mum. I sigh, once it is a no there is no changing.

I drag myself into the car and in a second, we zoom off. After a long car drive, we arrive at the camp. There are a lot of cabins. We look for number 13. Finally, we find it. But it doesn't look right. It was away from the group and it looks scary.

"Let's have a rest," says my mum interrupting my thoughts. I'll have a shower first. I exclaim. "Fine by me," says mum. So I climb into the bathtub and turn on the tap. I hear someone murmuring..."you are next after your mother." That doesn't mean anything. I try to console myself. I slowly got out of the tub and slip into bed quietly. I put the quilt over my head.

When I wake up, I see some bones scattered near me. There is a note on the bones. I open it with trembling hands. I see the words..."You are next Britney".

I run towards the door. But waiting for me is a zombie.
“No one exits room 13 alive” he growls. With my blurred eyes, I see a banner saying HAPPY HALLOWEEN hanging on a tree branch!

The End
