

THE INCIDENT

As the lightning struck and the thunder shook the ground, CRASH, the street lights collapsed onto the concrete pavement. Children snuggle into their blankets horrified of the lightning flashing into their windows and the thunder cracking only moments after.

Miles was just an ordinary boy but since that horrifying day, him and so many others have been petrified of the outside world. What exactly happened before the lightning first struck?...

It was the scariest day of the year, Halloween. All the children going to strangers doors and asking for sweets. There's one house that's old, creepy and unowned so of course everyone wants to go there and see if it is haunted. They were armed with baseball bats and a camera but nothing could prepare them from what they were about to see. So they creep in the old and slightly open door to find there worst nightmare. There were deceased bodies all over the floor and a living skeleton making some sort of potion that's how it began. The potion turned into a form of lightning it squirted out making the old house explode.

Since the video of the "incident" was shown on the news everyone has been scared of the town. Most have moved and the others keep their houses boarded up.

Every one wonders when it will happen again...