

A Day in the Life of a horse

One day the King and Queen announced that there was a big horse riding competition. But.... Someone called Nugget-horn did not want this to happen because, he had never ever rode a horse. So he decided that he would dress up as a horse rider and go to the competition. But when he got there he saw one amazing horse which had a sparkling hove and a wonderful mane. He shouted so hard that his costume flung right of him. And the King was furious but not the Queen. She did not mind. So Nugget-horn took the horse and was of "Get back over hear right now" said the King. But Nugget-horn started the race. "now" said Nugget-horn "no!" said the King.

We will be back after this add.

Come on down get a balloon don't be lazy get a burger, get a packet of chips from Mac Donald's.

Sorry for the wait folks.

All the other horse riders were late" I am going to win this race" said Nugget-horn. "I am" another rider was back they raced. "No" said Nugget-horn. While that Nugget-horn's horse got frighten. She flung of Nugget-horn he landed in the tree's the horse went....CRAZY! "oh no" said the king and queen.

Part 2

The other horse rider won the competition. The royal gards got Nugget-horn out of the tree and in to jail. The people in the croud were asleep because it had been a hole 11 hours. But they woke up to the sound of the loud trumpets. Because Nugget-horn was not safe the king and queen banished him from the kingdom of anchntaia. Since it had been 12 hours now they had a good sleep.

THE END

By Manasi Senanayake

